Congress Will Open Hearings on Steel Prices

By EDMOND LE BRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress opens hearings today on steel prices, and with the ink still wet on some new prices.

The atmosphere is far from the stormy, dramatic days of the administration-industry battle of a year ago.

The hearings, conducted by the Senate-House Economic Committee with bipartisan approval, promise at the outset, at least, to be more technical than dramatic.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., joint committee chairman, said the hearings will be "impartial and factual." He said the committee is trying "to lay a groundwork of fact and detail on which all could agree so that the opinions, results, and recommendations would so far as possible reflect an informed view of the problem."

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis of Missouri, senior Republican House member on the group, applauded Douglas' plan for the hearings. Curtis said such a system should have been used last year in place of Kennedy's public denunciations of the price rises which finally were revoked under heavy administration pressure.

On the eve of the hearings' opening, some steel firms were lowering or canceling some of the selective price increases, seemingly to stay in line with the market. Today's testimony, by Labor Department specialists, was assigned the noninflammatory title: "Labor Costs per Unit of Output and Related Data."

Douglas said the first six days of hearings will be confined to testimony by technical personnel. The committee then will decide on further sessions, presumably with policy makers.

Representatives of the United Steel Workers and the American

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A Memphis firm was apparent low bidder today on the first stage of relocation of the Grayson, Nashville and Ashdown Railroad in connection with an Arkansas reservoir project.

Army Engineers said H. N. Rogers and Son Co. bid $442,063, compared with a government estimate of $356,366, for construction of eight miles of railroad embankment for the relocation near Millwood Reservoir on Little River in Southwestern Arkansas.

On another Millwood project, turning of an embankment and access road, McMillan-Burkette Construction Co. of Texarkana was apparent low with an offer of $18,000, compared with a government estimate of $14,575.

Union Plans to Fight Osceola Law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A complaint has been mailed to federal district court at Jonesboro asking a temporary restraining order on an Osceola ordinance that requires union organizers to pay the city $1,000 a day.

The complaint also asks that ordinance be declared unconstitutional and that city officials be enjoined permanently from enforcing it.

The complaint was mailed to U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young by James E. Youngdahl of the Little Rock law firm of McMath, Leatherman, Woods and Youngdahl. He represents the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, AFL-CIO.

Youngdahl said the complaint said there is a threat that the ordinance may be used against the union's organizers this week.

The union is attempting to organize the American Greeting Card Corp., a greeting card plant.

Youngdahl said about 700 workers, mostly women, would be eligible to vote to decide whether they want to be represented by the union in a National Labor Relations Board election scheduled Thursday.

Besides setting a fee, the ordinance also requires a union organizer to be fingerprinted by police. Youngdahl said no one has tried to arrest organizers yet but police have followed them in police cars.

Pair Enters Plea to Assault Charge

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Paul Leroy Wright, 28, and Delma Pierce Wright, 26, pleaded guilty Monday to charges of assault with intent to rob and assault with intent to kill.

They will be sentenced in Circuit Court next Friday. They entered their pleas in that court.

The couple was arrested in Jonesboro several weeks ago in connection with the attempted robbery of a Jonesboro service station. The attendant at the station was shot during a scuffle over a gun.

Wright admitted his identity under oath during the hearing. Previously, he had claimed he was Omaha, Okla. Wright, 26, his brother who lives in Florida.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said he was Paul Wright after checking his fingerprints. The couple pleaded innocent to the charges at a hearing Saturday.

Eight Charged in Theft of Goods

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Eight men have been arrested at Little Rock and charged with theft of about $15,000 in goods from interstate shipments, Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the FBI office at Little Rock, said Monday.

Moore identified the men as: Willie Montgomery Jr., 29; Willie T. Smith, 30; Augustus Parks Jr., 33; O. C. Washington, 23; Manuel James Humphrey, 24; S. N. Scoggin, 33; Ronald Finn, 23; and Lorenzo Cobb Jr., 38.

The first four were arrested last Friday, the last four were arrested Monday, Moore said. All were employees of the American Warehouse Co. of Little Rock, which told the FBI the thefts occurred in 1962 and in January this year.

Moore said the FBI began an investigation in January this year and the thefts stopped.

All eight men were arraigned before U.S. Commissioner John E. Coates and freed on bonds ranging from $250 to $500, Moore said.

FISHERMEN KILLED — Two San Antonio, Texas men, returning from a fishing trip were killed when their light plane plunged into Copano Bay north of Rockport, Texas. They were identified as Jim Cofer and Bill McNeil.

Green Was Formerly From State

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—The U.S. Supreme Court in Washington ruled Monday that a state has the right to bar racial discrimination in hiring by interstate carriers, apparently ending a six-year battle by an Arkansas Negro.

Marlon D. Green, 33, a former Air Force captain, is a native of El Dorado.

He said Continental Air Lines, Inc., of Denver, Colo., found him qualified as a pilot but he was not hired while white men with less flying experience got jobs.

On Green's complaint, the Colorado Anti-discrimination commission ordered the air line to place him in its next pilot training class.

But Colorado's Supreme Court overturned the commission ruling, holding that the commission lacked authority over Continental as an interstate carrier.

The U.S. Supreme Court, which often in the past has cracked down on states for invading federal legal preserves, said Colorado's court was wrong in knocking down their own state law banning job discrimination.

Green now lives in Lansing, Mich., with his wife, a school teacher, and their six children. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Green, still live in El Dorado.

Green telephoned the El Dorado Daily News from Lansing early today to talk about the case. He said he left El Dorado in 1949 and joined the Air Force two years later.

Green said he learned flying as a cadet with astronaut Virgil I. Grissom.

Commenting on the court's ruling, he said: "After six years of battling for this what can I say except 'Wow!'"

Michigan Observes a Massacre

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP) — A bloodless re-enactment of the massacre at historic Fort Michilimackinac 200 years ago will be staged Memorial Day weekend.

The bicentennial committee which is arranging the four-day observance at the Straits of Mackinac has a problem.

The committee, which has been trying to line up descendants of either victims or victors of the massacre, reports that descendants of people who were involved in Indian Chief Pontiac's wars are apparently as scarce as Mayflower descendants are plentiful.

Gets Divorce, Wife Left Back in 1899

CORNING, N.Y. (AP) — An 82-year-old man who says he hasn't seen his wife since she left him a few months after their marriage in 1899 has been granted a decree providing for dissolution of the marriage.

Charles Woodcock received the decree Monday in State Supreme Court.

U.S. Swaps 3 Cubans for 21 Americans

NEW YORK (AP) — Three alleged Cuban saboteurs and a pro-Castro Cuban who was convicted of murder have been sent back to their native land in a swap for 21 Americans released from Cuban prisons, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Monday night.

The key figure behind the exchange probably was New York attorney James B. Donovan, who also engineered the Abel-Powers spy swap and the ransom of 1,113 Cuban Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners.

Shortly after Donovan secured the release of 21 Americans from Cuban prisons Monday and flew with them to Florida, the following occurred:

—The Justice Department announced in Washington it was dropping charges against two Cuban nationals and one Cuban-American under indictment in New York for an alleged sabotage conspiracy.

—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller freed from a New York state prison a pro-Castro Cuban sentenced to 20-years-to-life for the 1960 accidental slaying of a 9-year-old Venezuelan girl during a political brawl in a New York restaurant.

—Shortly before 10 o'clock Monday night, the four Cubans were placed on a plane at Idlewild Airport for an eventual connection with a Havana-bound Cubana Airlines plane at a base in Florida.

Kennedy told newsmen at a New York reception by the Cuban Prisoners Committee the decision to free the alleged Cuban saboteurs was part of a trade for the American prisoners in Cuba.

Rockefeller said that the other part of the deal was the release of the convicted Cuban lawyer, Francisco Molina del Rio, 31.

The governor said the federal government had informed him that the commutation of Molina's sentence was "necessary in the national interest." He said the government had assured him the move would help secure the release of the 21 imprisoned Americans.

The Cubans were indicted on sabotage conspiracy charges by a federal grand jury following their arrest here last Nov. 16. They are

U.S. Planning Probe of State Poultry Trade

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas poultry processors are being investigated by the United States Agriculture Department, an official said Monday.

A statement by Donald A. Campbell, director of the Packers and Stockyards Division of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said a wholesale investigation is underway.

The statement, notarized April 19 in Washington, was attached to a response by Deputy U.S. Dist. Atty. E. A. Riddle to a motion filed by Tyson Poultry, Inc., of Springdale and Plus Poultry, Inc., of Siloam Springs.

The motion asked U.S. District Judge John E. Miller to stay an order he handed down April 19. He ordered the two firms to open their books to federal investigators.

The firms filed notice of appeal and asked the stay until their appeal is heard by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis, Mo.

Campbell's affidavit, citing numerous complaints of unfair trade practices, said alleged violations of fair trade included these:

- (1) Price fixing by large processors and chain stores.
- (2) Discrimination by large processors against small ones.
- (3) Unfair economic pressures and reprisals.
- (4) Boycotting.
- (5) Failure to accurately account to their producers.

Campbell joined Riddle in urging the judge not to stay the order. He said a stay would delay "much needed investigation" of the industry.

In addition to asking for the stay, Plus Poultry asked that all original files and complete transcripts of court proceedings be

Allies Will Try to Keep Talks Alive

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American and British ambassadors plan to see Premier Khrushchev Wednesday in an effort to revive the Soviet Union's flagging interest in a nuclear test ban.

There was speculation today that this could eventually lead to a higher level meeting—at the summit or at foreign ministers level — which might deal with other East-West issues, too.

U.S. sources said it was premature to predict that such a meeting will take place. Washington advisers feel the time is not ripe. It was understood, however, that President Kennedy has not closed the door on the possibility.

The British reportedly are more enthusiastic than the Americans about a possible high level meeting. Prime Minister Macmillan has been under attack at home by the bomb-bomb groups, and is also facing national elections.

Washington and London agree on the need for getting the Soviet Union to join in a treaty to outlaw nuclear testing—the sooner the better they say, in order to prevent a spread of atomic weapons to nations which don't have them now.

The U.S. ambassador to Moscow, Foy Kohler, and British ambassador, Humphrey Trevelyan were reported to have seen Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko last Thursday on the test ban question and to have arranged to see Khrushchev.

The nuclear issue was discussed Monday at a State Department foreign policy briefing for newsmen and broadcasters.

Kennedy was scheduled to address the group on a background basis this afternoon, under rules forbidding quoting the President by name.

Magnolia Seeks Loop Around City

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Magnolia group will request that the Arkansas Highway Commission approve the construction of a highway loop around Magnolia when the commission meets Wednesday.

Highway engineers surveyed the road network in the Magnolia area in 1960 and 1961 and recommended the loop be constructed to join U.S. Highways 79 and 82 and state Highway 19.

The commission has proposed a by-pass to connect Highways 79 and 19. Engineers said downtown congestion in Magnolia would be relieved by the loop.

Fighting Has Picked Up in Viet Nam

By ANTOINE YARED

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Heavier fighting appeared in prospect for Laos today as rightist Gen. Phoumi Nosavan threatened to send his troops into action if the pro-Communist Pathet Lao completes its conquest of the Plain des Jarres.

The Pathet Lao is expected to press ahead with its drive to force the neutralist troops of Gen. Kong Le out of northern Laos. Gen. Phoumi's threat promised a resumption of the all-out civil war that ended when the rightist-neutralist-Pathet Lao coalition government was set up by the 1962 Geneva agreements.

There was a shaky truce today on the strategic Plaine 110 miles northeast of Vientiane, where the Pathet Lao has driven Kong Le's neutralist forces from key positions.

Observers and officials kept an eye cocked to see what the United States would do. Officials in Washington said additional units of the 7th Fleet would be sent into the Gulf of Siam area as a precaution. High U.S. authorities also said there was a possibility U.S. troops might return to neighboring Thailand.

U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman conferred in Paris with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and then told newsmen the Pathet Lao attacks were outrageous. He charged that Communist North Vietnam had ordered the attacks on the neutralists.

Harriman reaffirmed full U.S. support for the coalition government headed by neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma.

However, Gen. Phoumi, a deputy premier in the government, said if the Pathet Lao takes over the Plaine, "this means the end of the coalition government and therefore we will be obliged to intervene."

Phoumi said he had dispatched reinforcements to the area, but both he and Kong Le denied Pathet Lao charges that rightist troops had already joined the neutralists on the Plaine itself.

He said his men held positions in the hills where they are supported by Meo tribesmen. Phoumi's army reportedly numbers about 60,000 men. During the civil war it was unable to stop the Pathet Lao although it had American military advisers and large quantities of U.S. supplies.

Prince Souvanna Phouma conferred with Kong Le, who flew in from his new headquarters at Muong Phuan, seven miles west of the Plaine des Jarres. The neutralists are trying to regroup there.

The premier said both Kong Le and the Pathet Lao, headed by his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong, had agreed to continue the truce.

Gen. Phoumi said he had agreed to have a truce team of the International Control Commission stationed at Kong Le's new headquarters.

Informed sources said Souphanouvong also agreed to the presence of an ICC team with the neutralists but refused to allow one at his own headquarters at Khang Khay. The commission was set up under the Geneva agreements to supervise the armistice in Laos, but its movements must be approved by all three factions in the coalition government. The commission's members are India, Canada and Poland.

Funeral services for Edward B. Price, 39, of Diboll, Texas were held today. He died Sunday in a Lufkin Hospital. Survivors include his wife, a son and a daughter. Mrs. Price will be remembered in this area as Melba Coffee, the daughter of Mrs. Trula Coffee of DeAnn.

Nikita Wants Neutral Status for W. Berlin

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has suggested that West Berlin be converted to a neutral status on the order of Austria, Switzerland or San Marino.

He pressed his years-old campaign for a neutral status for the Western-occupied sectors of Berlin in a conversation with a correspondent of the Milan newspaper Il Giorno. The talk took place in the Kremlin Saturday when the paper's director, Italo Pietra, picked up written replies to questions he had submitted.

Il Giorno's Moscow correspondent, Raffaello Ubaldi, who was present said Khrushchev stressed that solution of other control European questions depends on getting East-West agreement on Berlin.

"Khrushchev," Ubaldi wrote, "Cited the example of Switzerland and Austria, two countries which live in the middle of other groups of countries but without representing any cause of friction."

"Nobody touches Austria," Khrushchev noted, and yet Austria is more important than Berlin. Also in Italy there is a little country which lives surrounded completely by Italian territory. It is a state difficult to find on the map: San Marino.

"Would it not be possible, Khrushchev continued, with hardly a trace of irony, to make of West Berlin the San Marino of central Europe?"

Khrushchev has stressed in previous interviews, notably with 12 American editors last summer, that he considers West Berlin the No. 1 problem of the day.

He has urged the neutralization of the city and suggested that this status be guaranteed by the United Nations perhaps with a U.N. force stationed there.

Austria's neutrality is guaranteed by the Big Four powers. San Marino's depends on the good will of surrounding Italy. Switzerland's neighbors have found it profitable

Senior Class Play Is a Mystery

The 1963 Senior Class of Hope High School will present its version of "No Boys Allowed" on April 25 and 26 in the school auditorium.

This three-act mystery farce combines laughter with screams. For example, there is a pair of attractive girls who are actually boys in disguise. The negro maid imagines that ghosts are lurking in every crevice and she may be right.

Not only does it take actors and a producer to put on a play but also the behind-the-scenes workers. They are as follows:

The business managers are Ruth Ann Mohon and Roy Wray. The business committee consists of David Waddle, Brenda Hicks, Sue Duckett, Jerry Purdie, Linda Johnson and James Luck.

The stage committee members are Orville Steadman, Mickey Baber, Buddy Anthony and Gene Davis.

The publicity for the play is the work of W. I. Ward and Barbara Reese.

Delinquencies Drop in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal tax delinquencies in Arkansas for the year ended last Dec. 31 decreased 1.5 per cent, Sen. John L. Williams, R-Del., reported Monday.

His ninth annual report to the Senate was broken down by district Internal Revenue Service offices, based on statistics supplied by IRS Commissioner Mortimer Caplin.

Williams said nationally delinquencies last year increased 3.5 per cent, or about $1.2 billion over 1961.

Once Friendly Burma Is Now Suspicious

By PETER ARNETT

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Neutrality Burma's once friendly face toward the West is reflecting doubt and suspicion now.

The Burmese strongman, Gen. Ne Win, is systematically routing out all foreign influences within his country, but the West is hurting the most.

His most recent move was to ban all embassies from showing propaganda films outside Rangoon. The distribution of foreign language publications printed outside Burma also has been banned.

Earlier this year, Ne Win virtually eliminated foreign business interests through nationalization.

Burma has a struggling 1,200-mile frontier with Communist China that compels her to tread a careful neutralist path in foreign affairs, diplomats here say.

But they fear that Ne Win, trying hard to unite his country after 14 stormy years of independence, may use the bogey of an imperialistic West to bring this about. He feels he can afford to upset the West, but not China.

Burma tended to be oriented toward the West after Britain gave her independence gracefully in 1948. However, with the rise of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization in neighboring Thailand, Burmese leaders have tended to withdraw into their traditional suspicion of foreigners.

Remnants of the Nationalist Chinese army that moved into Burma in retreat from the Communists have stayed to plague the border areas. Only last year, a riot nearly developed in front of the U.S. Embassy in Rangoon because of alleged American support for these elements.

The Communist Chinese have been playing a careful role with Burma over the years, culminating in the signing of a border agreement beneficial to Burma in 1961.

Subtle Chinese influences continue in Burma, with occasional goodwill visits. Even Ne Win's ruthless suppression of the warring Communist parties within his country, and the nationalization of two Communist Chinese banks, have failed to ruffle the Chinese.

The Red Chinese president, Liu Shao-chi, is visiting Burma to further cement relations.

TV Hopes to Go Inside Capsule

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, which has brought five manned missile launches into American homes, now hopes to take the viewers inside of capsule itself.

Astronaut Gordon Cooper will have a television camera inside his craft during his 22-orbit space flight planned for mid-May. If all goes well, viewers will be able to watch Cooper during the actual launching and during the 34-hour flight. We may also see the earth—live—from points 100 miles up in space.

Development of a special, tiny television camera has made this possible. It is the shape and about the size of a four-battery flashlight and will be clipped on a swivel mounting inside the capsule, but can be removed and aimed by Major Cooper to show experiments in progress and the world below.

The five previous manned space shots were reported by the three major television networks but the actual picture coverage ceased as soon as the rocket shot out of sight.

This time it promises to be different.

The small camera will take one picture every two seconds (it's called "slow scan"). The picture from the capsule can be received when it is within 1,000 miles of the Cape Canaveral receivers. Weather permitting, we'll see him for seven or eight minutes during orbits one through five and 15 through 20. Pictures will be received on two video tape machines in Mercury Control Center, and released to the television pool.

Sid Darion, the ABC producer heading the three-network pool, said that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has promised also to permit some live broadcasts direct from the capsule as well as rebroadcast of tapes.

Darion was assigned to the job two months ago, and since then has been busy making arrangements.

The launching itself will be covered from 14 live camera positions and by 14 unmanned stationary cameras.

Kennedy Like Man Caught in A Door

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is like a man caught in a revolving door.

He's under pressure to intervene in Mississippi directly and in Cuba at least indirectly.

In Mississippi it would be politically dangerous, in Cuba militarily dangerous.

He's not apt to intervene in either.

The Civil Rights Commission has recommended he withhold federal funds from Mississippi to force it to protect the rights of its Negro citizens.

The commission said in a special report to the President: "There is an overriding constitutional obligation to make certain that federal funds are expended in a manner which benefits all citizens without distinction."

This is what Kennedy would face if he tried it:

1. Antagonism of the South which might cost him heavily, perhaps fatally, in the 1964 presidential race.

If he sought to compel Mississippi to conform on civil rights, every other Southern state could expect the same unless it got in line.

2. Antagonism of the Southern Democrats in Congress. For more than two years he has leaned over backwards to pacify the Southerners even when they frustrated him.

He needs their help to get his programs through.

Yet, if he ignores the commission's suggestion, Kennedy risks a loss in the Negro vote in the North.

The Cuban refugees in Florida can't vote, but they're creating an embarrassment for him, too.

Right now the Kennedy administration and the refugees are in a shouting match resulting from his ban on their use of American shores as bases even for hit-and-run raids on Fidel Castro's island.

In answer to the refugees' complaints the American State Department said of Cuba: "The United States cannot exist with a Soviet satellite in this hemisphere."

But that's exactly what the United States is doing since there is no sign it has any plans for getting Castro out although the refugees remember how last December Kennedy held out hope of their return to Cuba.

If it were just a matter of overturning Castro, Kennedy could hardly be reluctant. Just two years ago he took responsibility for the refugee invasion which collapsed in disaster.

But the raids on Cuba from this country couldn't occur without the American government's permission, open or concealed. This did not seem to matter much so long as only Castro was involved.

But now there are Russian troops in Cuba. And raids on the

Difficult to Pity the Working Girl

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Sometimes it is extremely difficult to pity the poor working girl.

In fact, from what I hear, there may be no such thing nowadays as a "poor working girl."

As one business executive put it, "no girl who really works in our office stays poor. And no girl who stays poor really works."

What he, and other employers, refers to is the penchant of today's young female employees for watching the clock when they're in the office — and forgetting it when they're out of the office.

The "coffee break," in the female set, is sometimes not so much a "breather" as a vacation with pay.

But the coffee break, although troublesome to business, is controllable. Every now and then promptly, or else. The girls, at least temporarily, return promptly.

A far more insidious problem is the regular exodus of girl employees to the so-called ladies' room. This area is sometimes called a "rest room," employers realize, but how much rest should a file clerk require in an eight-hour day?

Before sexual equality, girls used to keep their noses to the grindstone. Now they keep them to the powder puff.

This is an extremely delicate problem in Puritan America where even the most sophisticated boss is loathe to inquire, "what were you doing in the ladies' room?"

It simply isn't done here. Just as the cathedral has asylum for the criminal in ancient, pre-F.B.I. and demand that the girls return days, so the powder room is the sanctuary of safety for the working girl. J. Edgar himself wouldn't violate her security.

In England, they are less squeamish about these matters. An efficiency expert in a London factory took tabs on the ladies' room visits of 200 women employees. "I kept watch from a little office opposite the ladies," he reported. "None of the girls knew I was there. I used a stopwatch to find out how long they stayed."

"Within a space of four hours, 509 trips were made to the ladies' room and each girl spent an average of 10.7 minutes there."

He checked the male employees too. Over a period of four hours, men made only 230 trips. The average visit was 2.5 minutes.

This was pretty damaging evidence, and the women workers were confronted with it.

What was their excuse?

They didn't need any. They were stunned and offended.

They — all 200 of them — went on strike.

They won the strike too. The management got them back to work by promising that in the future they could smoke at their stockings in the powder room, or to give one another home permanents.

Obviously, in the matter of powder room politics, you cannot fight the working girl. If she hibernates behind the sacred pink door, who is to say her nay? She has nature — human and otherwise — on her side.

But it's safe to say that ultimately management holds the upper hand. The giddy goof-off girl doesn't get financially ahead. What offices want, for advancement, are mature women.

And could this be why the rest room is so often referred to these days, not as the "ladies' room," but as the "little girls' room?"

Texan Killed in Texarkana Wreck

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—A 74-year-old Wellington, Tex., man was killed Monday night in a three-vehicle crash that left a Pine Bluff man injured.

H. A. Peters was killed in the collision seven miles east of Texarkana on U.S. Highway 82.

State Troopers said his station wagon hit a car driven by G. A. Morgan, 49, of Pine Bluff. He was hospitalized at Texarkana with multiple lacerations of the head and a possibly dislocated hip.

William H. Ward, 22, of Little Rock, was standing beside a trailer-truck rig which had run out of gasoline and was stalled beside the highway.

Morgan's car hit the truck after colliding with Peters' station wagon, troopers said, and Ward narrowly escaped injury.

Sentence Is Affirmed by State Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court affirmed today a 6-year prison sentence assessed against James Daniel Norman on a robbery conviction in Crittenton Circuit Court.

Norman was charged with taking $15 at gunpoint from a taxi driver on Dec. 3, 1957. He was not taken into custody until Jan. 10, 1962, on his release from a county penal farm in Georgia.

The Supreme Court rejected a number of appeal points, including Norman's contention that the state had waited too long to try him.

In a Phillips County case, the Supreme Court upheld a Chancery Court ruling that an instrument executed by R. E. Corder giving his nephew, Monte E. Corder, the right to occupy a store building owned by R. E. Corder rent free as long as Monte Corder wanted to operate a furniture store there was valid.

Heirs of R. E. Corder, who died without a will, disputed validity of the instrument. It covered a store building at 416 York Street in Helena.

The Supreme Court said the instrument executed by R. E. Corder gave Monte Corder rights equivalent to the home stated interest of a widow.

"He has a personal right to use the store building for a furniture store, subject to abandonment," the Supreme Court opinion said.

Crawford Chancery Court was affirmed in ruling that Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Dean have a right to seek compensation from the Highway Department for an 18-foot strip of property taken by the Highway Department on a road-widening project.

The Highway Department contended the 18 feet had been demanded in 1927, but the Supreme Court said this point had not been properly developed in the case.

In another Highway Department condemnation case, the Supreme Court upheld a Jackson Circuit Court jury finding awarding Rufus Webster and others $2,250 for 12 acres taken in a highway project.

Merger of Oil Firms Approved

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The merger of Kin-Ark Oil Co. of El Dorado, Ark., and Atlas Exploration Co. of Tulsa has been approved by stockholders of both firms, a spokesman said in Tulsa Monday.

Atlas will be merged into Kin-Ark on the basis of 25 shares of Kin-Ark stock for one share of Atlas stock. A headquarters office will be maintained in El Dorado with an operations office in Tulsa.

Stockholders meetings were held in El Dorado and Tulsa. In El Dorado, a spokesman for the company said Kin-Ark's oil production was about 600 barrels daily. He said the firm operated in southern Arkansas, western Mississippi and northern Louisiana.

Primarily Kin-Ark deals in drilling exploration and production, the spokesman said.

Apparently Have Wrong Newton

NEWTON, Ala. (AP)—Mayor Bascom Brown doesn't know what to do with a batch of self-addressed envelopes and cards from stamp collectors throughout the country.

The collectors are asking for a stamp with a special cancellation mark commemorating a new airport at Newton.

Must be some other Newton, the mayor said. His town hasn't even applied for funds to build an airport.

Scene of Tragedy Is Located

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A stretch of beach near Summerland has been tentatively identified as the scene where an Arkansas man and a California woman allegedly killed an Oregon man.

Clarence Parker, 40, of Texarkana, Ark., and Rosalie Eaton, 19, of San Francisco, have admitted killing Richard McCutcheon of North Bend Ore., officers said.

The two were taken Sunday to various beaches. They said they thought the crime occurred near Oxnard in Ventura County but tentatively identified a beach near Summerland in Santa Barbara County.

Officials are to decide later which county will prosecute.

Officers said Parker and the Eaton girl admitted hitching a ride with McCutcheon, killing him, and then throwing his body in the Pacific Ocean on last March 30.

They were arrested in Pittsburgh, Pa., on April 12. Pittsburgh authorities said Parker had credit cards which belonged to McCutcheon.

Poultry Firm Sold

SPRINGDALE, Ark. (AP)—Tyson's Foods, Inc. of Springdale has announced the purchase of the Garrett Poultry Co. of Rogers. The firm includes a feed mill, a hatchery, officers and a processing plant that dresses out 300,000 pounds of poultry a week. The amount of money involved in the transaction has not been disclosed.

Contract Awarded

BENTON, Ark. (AP)—Ernest J. Ward Construction Co. of Benton has been awarded a contract for $313,031 for the reconstruction of parts of the Benton Junior High School destroyed by fire January 12.

No Damage From Weather

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Severe weather warning for parts of south Arkansas expired at midnight Monday with no damage reported.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock issued the warning for an area 60 miles either side of a line from Dallas, Tex., to Pine Bluff, Ark.

The area included Little Rock, Pine Bluff, Monticello, El Dorado, Texarkana, Mena, Conway, Hope and Magnolia.

island, with injury to the Russians, could lead to an unhappy and maybe tragic situation with the Soviet government.

Kennedy appears reluctant to take the chance—while the Russians are in Cuba—just for the sake of getting rid of Castro, since the troops by themselves are no immediate threat to this country.

He was not reluctant to take the chance when the price was higher—when Russian missiles on Cuba were a direct threat to the United States and Castro at that time was strictly incidental.

What this country needs is more days in the week and more hours in the day. A quick look at our calendar tells us this. . . National Library Week, National Secretaries' Week, National Garden Week, National YWCA Week, Photography Week and National Coin Week.

Not to be outdone by the national situation, we are having a WEEK all our own at Raley's Style Shoppe. He has declared this NATIONAL SUMMER DRESS WEEK, and we could not have chosen a better time because we have the merchandise to prove it.

If you would like to look like a picture in Vogue, just try on the bold black and white 100% Antron nylon dress. Light, soft to touch, washes, dries, dazzles again in minutes! Designed by Parkland of Dallas and the price is $14.95. If it is to a May breakfast you are going, purchase the embroidered sheath, fully lined and gently shaped in fine gardenia eyelet cotton. Designed by Jon McCaskey only $39.95. The Candy Jones California eyelet jacket dress gives you a Town suit to wear to lunch coals; remove the jacket, and you have a dinner dress, a very smart one, and the price is $17.95.

Jeanne Durells shadow-dut chifon in light-as-air luxury cotton, belted for crease resistance, needs only a touch of the iron. You will want several; all the styles are lovely, and best of all, you will like the price. . . $14.95 and up.

We could chat forever about the cotton knits. They are SO wearable. A Minx Modes cotton knit sheath dress could be worn to a golf tournament by day. . . or, with your favorite summer jewelry, it gives you a basic cocktail frock. . . the colors are lovely, and the price is so right. . . only $14.95.

These are just a few; come in and see them all. . . the place is Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

contained in the appeal record. Riddle's response listed four reasons for asking that the stay be denied, including these:

- (1) There is little likelihood that the poultry firms will prevail in their appeal.
- (2) No irreparable injury to the poultry firms will occur if the motion to stay the order is denied.
- (3) The public interest will be harmed by granting the motion.
- (4) And the public interest is entitled to priority over private litigants in litigation involving the administration or regulatory statutes designed to protect the public.

Judge John E. Miller, who is sitting on the bench at Hot Springs, said it was unlikely that he would act quickly on the motion, or the response. He said he would go to Harrison on Saturday and probably would not begin to give the motion consideration until the middle of next week.

to leave it alone. Uboldi said the conversation was friendly and informal. He said Khrushchev made these other points:

1. Communist China's leaders have not replied to his invitation to visit Moscow for discussions of their differences. He said he thought they were still considering it and he hoped they would accept.
2. He probably will visit President Tito in Yugoslavia during the second half of June, but the date is not definite.
3. The border fight between Red China and India is an unfortunate dispute between two peoples with whom the Soviet Union is equally friendly. He hopes it will be settled soon.
4. He considered the peace encyclical of Pope John XXIII a useful thing for peace.
5. The French-West German friendship pact could be interpreted as meaning that the French think they have captured West Germany whereas in reality West Germany has captured France.

Roberto Santiesteban Casanova, 27, an attaché with the Cuban mission to the United Nations; Antonio Sueiro, 23, a Cuban living in New York, and Jose Garcia Orellana, 43, a naturalized American citizen who operated a costume jewelry shop here.

Federal agents confiscated a large amount of explosives from Garcia's jewelry shop when the three were picked up. Sources in the U.S. attorney's office said the trio planned to throw hand grenades into crowds of Manhattan shoppers and blow up oil refineries in New Jersey.

The indictments against the three were dismissed by Judge Thomas F. Croake in U.S. District Court in Manhattan late Monday.

Molina fatally wounded the Venezuelan child, Magdalena Urdaneta, during a Manhattan restaurant fight between a group of supporters of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro and anti-Castro demonstrators. She had been visiting the United States with her parents.

Castro was in Manhattan at the time for an appearance before the United Nations.

Havana radio, as long ago as May 1961, had been calling upon Rockefeller and President Kennedy to free Molina. He was released, Rockefeller said, under the express condition that he "be deported forthwith and never again re-enter the United States."

POSTAL CLERK OPENS WIFE'S MAIL
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I've known my husband four years, we've been married nine months, and he remains a walking enigma.

The boy I dated is not the man I married. Single, he was gay, fun-loving and attentive. We went dancing, took in an occasional show and made a party out of the simplest occasion. He brought me flowers, candy and special little things like a hand-embroidered handkerchief, French gloves or the latest in costume jewelry. He had a good job at the post office and seemed to appreciate order.

Now good heavens! When I come home from work at night the house is a mess for he's through work an hour earlier than I. There are cigarette ashes on carpets and furniture, newspapers strewn on the floor, empty beer cans on the living room table, window shades askew, TV blaring, bed rumpled.

Even though I've tidied the rooms that morning I've got to clean up all over again. Dinner is naturally delayed. This starts my husband on his nightly tirade, bellowing, yelling, snarling. If I try to sit down and talk things over, he is furious; so I say nothing. But what does enrage me is sight of my mail opened and read. Imagine that — him in the post office and opening mail not intended for him! Not that I have anything to hide but it's his lack of principle that gets me. I want our marriage to last but it won't unless he changes his ways.

When I mention this he flares up and says nobody's going to tell him how to run his life. Please help. — Very Grateful.

Dear Very: If your husband has a good job, why are you working? Maybe he flies into these tantrums, which I admit are childish, because you're not at home when he returns from work.

Take the picking up after him as part of married life. No human is ever tidy about the house and yakkety-yakking won't help. Your attitude in the letter is combative. Men are easily handled if a woman goes about it the diplomatic way. My leaflet, "Be Tacitful," might help. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for it.

But I'm 100 per cent with you on the question of opening another's mail. Legally, a husband or wife has the right to open another's letters; morally, they have not. As a post office clerk he should appreciate this. If he refuses to discuss the issue, send him a special delivery letter and say that your privacy must be respected if your marriage is to survive. Suggest that you both sit down and work out a matrimonial code to live by.

Dear Helen: Our son is about to start college and we're not financially prepared to send him. It isn't possible for me to take a nine to five job to help pay his tuition for he's the oldest of four children — the youngest being in kindergarten, so if I'm to earn money I must do it at home.

Would a gift service be practical, similar to those shoppersrun in New York for out-of-town clients? I'm talking about those who specialize in merchandise that is different, beautiful and not ordinarily found in gift shops. Our area does not have such a service so one would succeed here. Would you advise me how to start? — Want-to-Help, Connecticut.

Dear Want: There are too many big shopping centers in our near Connecticut to make such an idea practical. You would be up against competition with the specialty stores of New York, New Haven, Bridgeport and even Boston. But there are other ways of making money at home.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Turn Your Spare Time into Cash." But don't do it with the idea of paying your son's college tuition. You're hindering instead of helping his development.

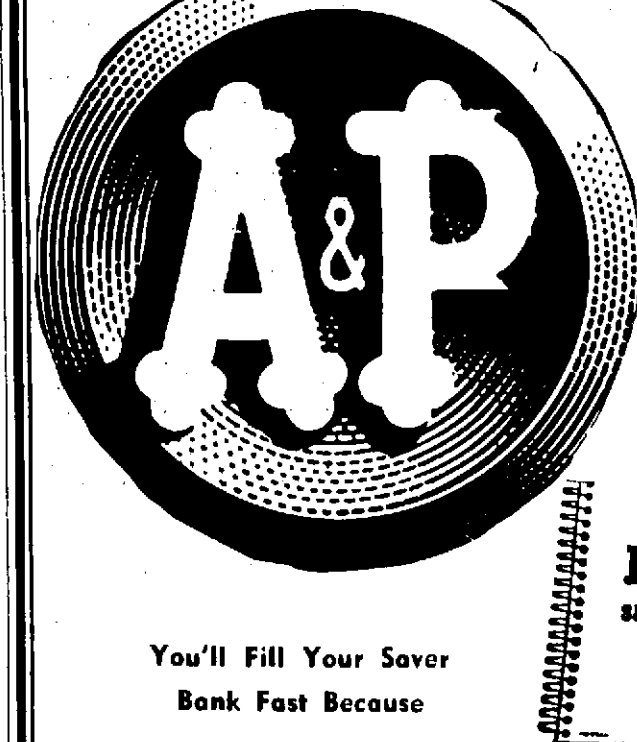

Let him start now doing odd jobs after school and planning full-time summer work. Meanwhile, tell him to write the dean of the college he wishes to enter, explain that he must work his way through and would appreciate any suggestions. Have him inquire about scholarships and loans for education.

Dear Helen: Our Junior Prom is in May. I would like to invite a boy friend from another school. Do I pay for the dinner? Would he be expected to buy flowers for him and me? — Puzzled.

Dear Puzzled: If you invite the boy, you supply the ticket and the boy foots the other bills. If he hasn't the money to pay for both dinner and flowers, your parents should arrange a small pre-prom dinner party at the house for you, the boy friend and one or two other couples.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lynch Nearing Record for Pinch Homers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jerry Lynch, who sits on it most of the time, can tell you all about good wood.

Today he can tell about the good wood he applied to a Jack Sanford pitch Monday night, belting the 12th pinch-hit homer of his career and triggering a five-run eighth-inning rally that gave Cincinnati a 7-4 victory over San Francisco.

A 32-year-old left-handed swinger whose amazing ability to connect as a pinch hitter often has kept him from playing regularly, Lynch is only two pinch-hit homers away from the record 14 hit by George Crowe with the Braves, Reds and Cardinals.

Lynch's key hit against Sanford, the Giants' 24-game winner, was his 72nd in 245 at-bats as an emergency swinger for the Reds, and hiked his pinch-hit average to .294. Besides the homers, he has collected nine doubles and two triples while driving in 60 runs.

Lynch's homer against the Giants tied the score 3-3. One out later Frank Robinson hit a two-run homer that put the Reds ahead to stay on a night when the big bats put the rap on the National League's mightiest arms.

Hank Aaron collected the 1,000th run batted in of his career with a third-inning single and joined Eddie Mathews and Dennis Menke as homer hitters in Milwaukee's 10-2 walloping of the Los Angeles Dodgers and 25-game winner Don Drysdale.

Pittsburgh's 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, coupled with the Giants loss, left the Pirates in first place by percentage points. San Francisco and St. Louis, which defeated Houston 5-2, are tied for second. In the other game, Philadelphia ended the New York Mets winning streak at four games, 9-8.

In the American League, Kansas City edged Detroit 6-3 and Washington beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-1. The Chicago at Cleveland game was postponed due to bad weather.

The Giants led 3-1 going into the eighth and Sanford, winner of his first three games, was working on a four-hitter when Eddie Kasko walked. Lynch, hitting for Don Blasingame, took a ball, then hammered the next pitch over the right field fence.

Gordy Coleman followed with a single and Robinson hit one into the left field stands to give Jim O'Toole his third victory against one defeat. Marty Keough also homered for Cincinnati while Tom Haller and Orlando Cepeda connected for the Giants.

Bob Hendley held the Dodgers to six hits as the Braves broke a four-game losing streak. Mathews' homer, a three-run shot in the third inning, was the first off Drysdale in 102 1-3 innings dating back to last Aug. 24.

Aaron drove in the first Braves' run with a single for his 1,000th RBI and hit his fourth homer of the season in the fifth. Menke

Travelers Drop Game to Toronto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers dropped a 11-4 decision Monday night to the Toronto Maple Leafs and dropped in to a tie for first place in the Southern Division of the International Baseball League.

In other games, Columbus beat Richmond 4-1, Rochester trimmed Atlanta 9-6, Syracuse edged Jacksonville 3-1 and the Indianapolis-Buffalo game was postponed because of cold.

Dennis Ribalt came on for Toronto in the first inning after the Travelers had built up a 2-1 lead. He allowed only five hits the rest of the way, though two of them were home runs.

Al Kenders got one in the eighth inning and Cal Emery got the other in the ninth. Both were hit with nobody on base.

The Leafs took the lead for good in the fifth inning on a double by Pepper Thomas, a throwing error by losing pitcher John Boozer, a bunt by Ribalt and a triple by Howie Bedell. That made the score 3-2.

In the eighth inning Toronto paraded nine men to the plate and scored six runs — with a grand slam home run by Lou Jackson causing the most damage.

Larry Smith's double with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning wrecked a bid for a no-hitter connected in the eighth. Earl Francis, Bob Veale and El-Roy Face combined for a five-hitter as the Pirates used two earned runs to beat the Cubs and Gene Hobbie. In the sixth, Billy Williams dropped Bill Mazeroski's two-out line drive, enabling Willie Stargell and Donn Clendenon to score with the games only runs.

Francis left in the eighth inning when his arm tightened. Ray Washburn went the distance for the third time and his third victory without a loss for the Cardinals, allowing the Colts only seven hits. Rusty Staub singled in the Houston runs in the third inning. Carl Sawatski and Bill White homered for the Cardinals and Charlie James drove in two runs with a pair of singles off loser Ken Johnson.

The Mets streak came to an end with the tying and leading runs on base in the ninth inning as Phillies' relief ace, Jack Baldschun, got pinch hitter Rod Kanehl to take a called third strike for the final out. The Mets had scored three runs in the inning—two on Frank Thomas' homer. The Phillies put together five runs in the fifth and sixth innings, with the aid of three balks, and held on behind winner Ray Culp and Baldschun.

Senator Hurler Wins 2nd With Angels Victim

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 11 years in baseball Tom Cheney changed uniforms 13 times.

At almost every stop he was told he had almost unlimited potential—just before they handed him his new travel orders.

But it looks as if it will be a long time before he ever turns in the Washington Senators suit he is wearing now.

The right-hander, who made signs of coming into his own last season when he struck out 21 Baltimore Orioles in a 16-inning game won his second straight Monday night with a four-hitter as slick as the top of his shiny 28-year-old bald head. The Los Angeles Angels were the victims, 4-1.

Only an unearned run kept Cheney from chalking up his second straight shutout. He stopped Boston on one hit in his other start.

In the only other game in the American League, the Kansas City Athletics battled back to a 5-5 decision over the slumping Detroit Tigers, who have lost four of their last five. Cleveland at Chicago, the only other game on the schedule, was postponed by poor weather.

In the National League, Pittsburgh took over first place with a 2-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs while Cincinnati dropped San Francisco to second by beating the Giants 7-4. Milwaukee beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 10-2. St. Louis defeated Houston 5-2 and Philadelphia edged the New York Mets 8-6.

Cheney, who is known as "Skin" among his mates because of the location of his hairline, extended his scoreless inning streak to 14, before the Angels scored in the sixth. Jim Fregosi singled off Cheney's shin, went to second on an error by shortstop Ed Brinkman and scored on Albie Pearson's single.

Chuck Hinton homered for the Senators in the first, and Brinkman contributed a two-run single to a three-run Senator fourth that chased Angel starter Ken McBride.

The Kansas City victory, which moved the A's to within a half game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles was a real uphill battle. The A's spotted the Tigers five runs in the first inning, but Don Mossi couldn't hold it.

Gino Cimoli and Norm Siebern drove home runs in the fourth, Wayne Causey chased two across in the seventh and Jerry Lumpe drove in the tying run in the eighth.

Dick Egan, third Tiger pitcher, retired the first two men in the ninth, but then Causey and Cimoli singled, and Ed Charles drove in the winning run with another single.

A clear plastic tube containing two spark plugs in which had been placed gasoline told the story of the power of only one drop of gasoline.

Using a miniature electric house, the demonstrator showed how fires start in walls and loft areas when the safety valve is removed and the circuit is overloaded. The students learned why a 15 ampere fuse is the correct size for normal wiring and why a large ampere fuse should not be substituted for

Home Fires Lead Accidents

Fire is the leading cause of accidental home deaths in Arkansas. Approximately 11,000 persons die annually in fires throughout the nation. These fires just don't happen, they are caused — most of them are caused by three things — men, women and children.

This was vividly illustrated in a live fire prevention program presented by Floyd Oglesby of the Arkansas State Board of Health, Division of Accident Prevention, at Brookwood School. The program was initiated by Mrs. Inez Turner, Public Health Nurse, Hempstead County.

Many demonstrations explained the basic facts about fire, its use and control, and how two of our most valuable products, electricity, petroleum, and related products are misused.

A fire triangle board illustrated the basic ingredients needed for a fire, fuel, heat, and air. The burning of steel wool proved that nothing is fireproof and everything will burn if the conditions are right. With Mrs. Busby, a plywood cut out of a woman, Mr. Oglesby told of the danger of putting water on a grease fire and illustrated how dangerous it is to walk with the skillet of burning grease. A vapor trough related the danger of flammable liquids such as gasoline and illustrated how the invisible gasoline vapors are flammable and heavier than air.

A clear plastic tube containing two spark plugs in which had been placed gasoline told the story of the power of only one drop of gasoline.

Using a miniature electric house, the demonstrator showed how fires start in walls and loft areas when the safety valve is removed and the circuit is overloaded. The students learned why a 15 ampere fuse is the correct size for normal wiring and why a large ampere fuse should not be substituted for

U.S. Swim Squad Cracks the Records

By JERRY LISA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAO PAULO, Brazil (P)—Uncle Sam's youth-voltaged swimming squad, owning five new meet marks just in warming up, gets down to championship cases in the fourth Pan American Games tonight.

The swimming program, offering the first four finals of the 17-event racing competition, features the fourth day's session of the 16-day Western Hemisphere version of the Olympic Games.

Monday's activity in this sun-drenched metropolis produced three more gold medal winners, three new meet swimming records for the U.S. team and a surprise defeat of America's No. 2 tennis player, Frank Froehling. The U.S. girls basketball team, topped by Joan Crawford's 14 points, won an opener over Chile 72-44.

The day brought approval of Winnipeg, Canada, by the Pan American Sports Organization as the site of the fifth Pan Am games in 1967.

Monday's three gold medal winners included U.S. lightweight weightlifter Anthony Garces, York, Pa., Argentine fencer Guillermo Saucedo in mens individual foils, and Venezuelan Enrique Forcella in carbine prone shooting.

Carl Robie, 17, Philadelphia flustered to a record smashing 2:14.5 heat victory in the 200-meter mens butterfly. Don Schollander, also 17 from Santa Clara, Calif., whipped through his
